

FRUIT VARIETIES AND HORTICULTURAL DIGEST

A Quarterly Journal published at Urbana, Illinois, by the American Pomological Society

1952 OFFICERS

HAROLD B. TUKEY, President
East Lansing, Michigan

A. S. COLBY, Vice-President
Urbana, Illinois

W. D. ARMSTRONG, Sec'y.-Treas.
Princeton, Kentucky

A. GRANT FOX, Vice-President
Normandale, Ontario

■ ■ ■

JOSEPH C. McDANIEL, Editor
Horticulture Field Laboratory
Urbana, Illinois

G. M. KESSLER, Assistant Editor
Michigan State College,
East Lansing, Michigan

CONSULTING EDITORS

W. S. Flory, Jr.
Blandy Experimental Farm,
Boyce, Va.

R. W. Hodgson
U.C.L.A., Los Angeles, California

E. M. Meader
New Hampshire Exp. Sta.,
Durham, N. H.

H. P. Olmo
California Exp. Sta., Davis, Calif.

F. L. Overley
Wenatchee, Wash.

George L. Slate
New York Exp. Sta., Geneva, N. Y.

C. A. Schroeder
U.C.L.A., Los Angeles, California

Will a new peach variety replace most of the Elberta in eastern orchards? Some growers think the Redskin may become their chief variety. Read more about it in our next issue, out in a few weeks.